

DR. Leslie KORN

“CHANGE YOUR MOOD
WITH YOUR FOOD”

Dr. Leslie Korn.com

Harvard Medical School-trained integrative medicine doctor –international speaker on Mental Health Nutrition, Culinary Medicine, Traumatic Stress and Multicultural Health.

AUTHOR OF 6 BOOKS TO GUIDE YOUR WELL-BEING

"If food is medicine, what do we eat to heal? Beyond conventional nutrition dogma, Leslie Korn's sophisticated, researched, and truly holistic perspective is urgently needed. I couldn't be more thrilled to add The Good Mood Kitchen to the top of my list."

Dr. Kelly Brogan, Holistic Women's Health Psychiatrist

About Leslie Korn PhD, MPH

Harvard Medical School-trained traumatologist, NIH-funded scientist, public health activist and university professor, Leslie has provided over 50,000 clinical care hours and taught thousands of clients over a more than 40-year, international career.

You will learn the health wisdom she garnered as she climbed waterfalls to gather mood-boosting beverages in the tropical rain forest, stuffed bananas leaf tamales she gathered in the jungle of Mexico, collected medicinal plants along forest rivers, sipped medicinal Ooligan oil in northern British Columbia, and she will share the secrets of how to make perfect brain-boosting chicken soup her Romanian grandmother taught her how to make.

Leslie will teach you how to integrate nutritional, culinary and herbal medicine into your life to improve mental, cognitive and physical health. She will share with you how she has helped thousands of patients reduce or eliminate pharmaceuticals to improve their sleep, mood and focus and she will share nature's medicines for overcoming adverse events.

You will learn both the art (and a touch of science) about keeping a Good Mood Kitchen, told with humor, no judgment, no ideology... just state-of-the-art proven methods that will enhance your everyday living.

RAVES FOR DR. KORN

Leslie’s teaching and speaking gifts combine dynamism, clarity and wonderful humor all rolled into one. She keeps her audience engaged, and creates an exciting learning environment.

Mary Jo Ruggieri, PhD, Former Olympic Gold Medal Synchronized Swimming Coach and Professor, The Ohio State University

Leslie used storytelling for her keynote and captivated with stories of her work collaborating with tribal communities in Mexico and the United States to restore touch therapies and nutrition from traditional foods, in response to complex and historical trauma. It was a rare treat that set the mood for the day.

Diana Thompson, LMP, Seattle, Board of Directors, Massage Therapy Research Foundation
