

Dr. Leslie Korn

The Process of Becoming My Career Counseling/Coaching Client

Welcome!

I am excited that you are considering exploring your career or study/training options. I am ready to support your next steps.

I take great satisfaction in mentoring and supporting women at each stage of their career.

Fees and Process

- ⌘ Our initial meeting will be for 75 minutes. The fee is 445.00
- ⌘ Subsequent meetings are 60 minutes/225.00

My office will send you a Paypal request for payment prior to our meeting along with a link to download paperwork. Please return the paperwork at least 48 hours before our appointment.

We will meet over zoom video.

My Philosophy and Methods

I am holistic and solution focused. This ranges from practical to transpersonal, from business and marketing planning to deep existential satisfaction, finding purpose and making meaning. This includes working with you to take specific, actionable steps to achieve your career objectives.

It may involve (gently) exploring any behavioral or emotional obstacles or challenges that are getting in the way of reaching your goals.

I integrate a “Zen” approach to career development. I think our ultimate satisfaction in life comes from “being” not “doing” and that how we spend our days and channel our energy and creativity, our passion and intellect is as important as earning a living. We will design a plan that encompasses your whole self.

My counseling and coaching is tailored to your needs and goals. We meet via audio/video—and explore your questions and concerns, your goals. My role ranges from being very practical: “How to get from here to there”... knowing the national and international fields and trends, knowing universities and their specialty areas, being up on the trends for careers financially, doing a business plan, marketing plan. What your website needs or social media, what to outsource, how to get published or give talks, build your ideal practice, and also how to overcome any obstacles to achieving your goals.

I may ask you to complete some “homework” following our meetings, so we advance in reaching your goals.

Ready to embark on the adventure of creating the work life you dream of?

I am ready to support you!